

Season Acquires DC Electronics Inc and establishes foothold in the United States

Hong Kong–April 22, 2010 – Season Group (www.seasongroup.com) has acquired the assets of DC Electronics, a San Antonio, Texas Electronics Manufacturing Services (EMS) company. All DC Electronics employees will be retained by the newly created company that will be called Season Group USA, Inc., including founder John DiPonzio.

"This is a win-win," says Mr.DiPonzio, "we can now leverage a global purchasing and manufacturing organization to provide cost competitive services to our customers. If our customers feel they want their products manufactured in the USA, we can do that, or if they want to send products for offshore manufacturing, we can do that also. We will definitely help our customers compete globally."

"We can now offer critical services such as New Product Introduction (NPI), Prototype, Quick-Turn manufacturing as well as Low to high volume manufacturing while addressing critical product lead times to our customers." says David Chavez, Director of USA Sales for Season Group. "It is a tremendous advantage to have a Domestic USA site and use Season's global infrastructure to help our USA customers launch products quicker and more effectively."
